PROFESSOR: Andrew Bosworth (PhD. Univ. of Washington)
E-mail: abosworth@troy.edu

MEETING LOCATION, DATES & TIMES:

This course will be conducted on Troy University Blackboard.

CATALOG COURSE DESCRIPTION:

An analysis of the systemic linkages between advanced, emerging and weak states; focus will be on the political, economic, and cultural issues relevant to the international relations of those states within both a regional and global context.

TEXTBOOK:

Stiglitz, Joseph, Globalization and Its Discontents, New York: WW Norton; 2003. ISBN: 0393324397.

Wallerstein, Immanuel. World-Systems Analysis: An Introduction, Chapel Hill: Duke University Press, 2004. ISBN: 0822334429.

OVERALL OBJECTIVES/ PURPOSE:

The student will understand the structures and processes associated with the relations between developed and developing nations. This course includes both a historical emphasis and a focus on contemporary events.

STUDENT OUTCOMES/ COURSE LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

Upon completion of this course the student should be able to: (1) Describe the political trajectories of developed and developing nations in general terms; (2) Demonstrate knowledge of the economic and political conflicts common to both sets of nations, such as world trade disputes; and (3) Discuss and evaluate the degree of economic development and democratization in the developing world.

SCHEDULE OF ASSIGNMENTS:

Unit 1: The Force of History
Unit 2: Feudalism and Modernity
Unit 3: The Correlates of War
Unit 4: Political Typologies
Unit 5: Midterm Project/ Dependency and Modernization
Unit 6: Challenges to the Developing World
Unit 7: Debt and Aid
Unit 8: Globalization and its Discontents
Unit 9: The Financial Crisis
Unit 10: Final Project/Cycles and Trends

ASSIGNMENT OF GRADES:

Evaluation: Grades for the semester will be based on the following criteria:

--Individual Essays and Papers	80%
--Midterm and Final Project	20%

Final letter grades are then calculated on the following basis:

A	90-100%
B	80-89%
C	70-79%
D	60-69%
F	<60%

ATTENDANCE POLICY:

Attendance (or continuous communication) is mandatory. No automatic cuts are authorized. Arrangements for excused absences must be made PRIOR to the absence. By university policy, the TROY's coordinator must be notified of students who miss more than 25% of classes.

INCOMPLETE GRADE POLICY:

A grade of "INC" can be assigned only when the student has a medical condition; a job or military duty schedule conflict; or some significant personal event. If a student requests an “INC”, he or she must submit to the instructor a signed Petition for and Work to Remove an Incomplete Grade form indicating the compelling reason for the “INC”. The instructor approving the request will document the required work and the deadline for completion. When the student completes the required work, the instructor will submit a Change of Grade form. In cases where a student fails to make up “INC” course work by the end of the next term in which they enroll, the “INC” will automatically be recorded as an “F” grade on the student’s record.

MAKE-UP WORK POLICY:

All classes missed must be made up, regardless of whether the absences were excused or unexcused. Make-up assignments will be given by the instructor on an individual basis.

AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT (ADA):

Troy University supports Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, which insure that post-secondary students with disabilities have equal access to all academic programs, physical access to all buildings, facilities and events, and are not discriminated against on the basis of disability. Eligible students, with appropriate documentation, will be provided equal opportunity to demonstrate their academic skills and potential through the provision of academic adaptations and reasonable accommodations. Further information, including appropriate contact information, can be found at the following link:

STANDARDS OF CONDUCT: By their enrollment, students are responsible for following the “Standards of Conduct” as they apply in the Troy University Pacific Region. Students may be disciplined up to and including suspension and expulsion for the commission of offenses in described in the Graduate Bulletin. As a reminder to graduate students, the “Standards of Conduct” regards dishonesty as an offense, which includes cheating and plagiarism. Students should carefully study the definitions of cheating and plagiarism:

1. Cheating includes:

- a) Copying, or relying upon, another student’s answers or submitting another student’s work as one’s own or submitting as new work assignments previously completed for another class, while completing any class assignment, study group assignment, or during in-class or take-home examinations.
- b) Providing one’s own answers to another student while completing any class assignment, study group assignment (except where approved by the instructor due to the nature of the assignment itself), or during in-class or take-home examinations.

c) Using notes, books, or any other unauthorized aids during an examination; or holding an unauthorized discussion of answers during in-class examinations.

2. Plagiarism is submitting a paper, other required student course requirement in which the language, ideas, or thoughts are identical to published or unpublished material from another source, including material found on the Internet, without correctly giving credit to that source. A good rule of thumb for correctly crediting a source is found in the citation below:

"Quotation marks should be used to indicate the exact words of another.

Summarizing a passage or rearranging the order of a sentence and changing some of the words is paraphrasing. Each time a source is paraphrased a credit for the source needs to be included in the text. ... The key element of this principle is that an author does not present the work of another as if it were his or her own work.

This can extend to ideas as well as written words." (Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, 2001, p.349)

While computers and the Internet allow students to cut and paste work from other material, new software is making it easier for universities detect plagiarism. Instructors may screen electronic versions of student assignments using the detection software. To avoid the pitfalls of plagiarism, students are strongly encouraged to review information on it available through Troy University Writing Center resources at <http://www.troy.edu/ecampus/onlinegraduateprograms/writingresources.htm> and at the link to the Purdue University Online Writing Lab.
